Profile

I build web and desktop applications, from responsive, user-friendly interfaces to backend services and API integrations. I've worked on Tersane İstanbul's residential and leasing projects, as well as C2C platforms, gaming projects, and other digital products. On the frontend, I mainly use React, Next.js, and TypeScript; on the backend, I work with Node.js, Prisma, and PostgreSQL. Alongside development, I also take on project coordination, performance optimization, and technical troubleshooting.
